LAYING OF THE CORNERSTONE SPECIAL FEATURE ON OCTOBER 4th

BUILDING BEGINS

The work on the new gymnasium is progressing satisfactorily. In the beginning of the summer the four buildings next to Memorial were torn down and the space cleared. The actual work on the foundations has been going on for some weeks and even now, by using the imagination a trifle, one can visualize the various sections of the completed building—the lower level for the swimming pool (60 by 20 feet), then the foundation for the gym proper. It promises to be one of the finest in the country and the greatest amount of care and labor have gone into its planning. For years this has been the crying need at Mary Baldwin and it is a happy occasion for all interested in Mary Baldwin to see that need being filled.

Though we do not have the entire $150,000 in sight, there is enough to warrant our going ahead with the building. Many of the alumnae who have not yet pledged, have signified their intention of having a part in it and we are counting on their sup-

TWICE IN A CENTURY

For the second time in a hundred years, the people of Staunton, alumnae and others, are being asked to have a financial part in the building of Mary Baldwin. The chamber of commerce, recognizing that Mary Baldwin is a community asset and that her welfare is the welfare of the community, has taken charge of this matter. Sometime in the month of October the financial approach will be made. Mrs. Sidney B. Shultz is serving as the city chairman and is assisted by Mrs. Dayton Hodges in the county. This local campaign is a part of the larger New Century Program which has been in progress at Mary Baldwin for about three years.

There is in the possession of the college the original list of subscribers to the first building (Continued on Page 2) port. With the cooperation of all the alumnae, it should not be a difficult task to have in hand at the beginning of 1942 the funds for completing the building.

112th Birthday Of Mary Julia Baldwin An Historic Day For College and Alumnae

For many years October 4th, the birthday of Mary Julia Baldwin, has been set apart as a special day at Mary Baldwin. But this year it is of greater significance than ever, as it marks the beginning of the one hundredth session at Mary Baldwin. For a long time, the thoughts of all those connected with Mary Baldwin have been turned toward this year. It is not only the beginning of our Centennial celebration but it is the day on which the cornerstone of the long awaited gymnasium is being laid. Since the alumnae are playing such a prominent part in the building of the gym, they are being especially featured at this time.

The day's events at Mary Baldwin will begin with the traditional senior investiture and ivy ceremony on the front terrace in the morning. Immediately following this, there will be a processional composed of students, faculty, trustees and all local and returning alumnae, which will lead to the site of the William Wayt King building. The impressive service of laying the cornerstone will then take place, with representatives from the various groups connected with the college taking part. Each representative will place in the cornerstone an article appropriate to her group.

At the conclusion of the laying of the cornerstone, the alumnae will proceed to the upper back gallery where a seated luncheon will be served, under the auspices of the club house committee, with Mrs. J. P. Ast as chairman. The luncheon meeting will be in the nature of an open forum when plans for the Centennial will be made public and will be discussed by the alumnae. This meeting will be extremely important in the whole year's work, so all alumnae are especially invited.

The evening attraction will be a lecture by Maurice Hindus, noted lecturer and writer who has recently returned from Russia. It prom-erected at Mary Baldwin. The descendants of many of them are still in Staunton and we turn to them, counting on their loyalty and support. The faith and foresight of those original subscribers have been more than justified in the service which Mary Baldwin has rendered for almost a century to Staunton, to Virginia and to the nation at large, and now to another generation comes this same opportunity to make an investment which has yielded, and will continue to yield, incalculable dividends.

Campus Changes

The greatest change that anyone returning to the campus this fall would note is the absence of the four buildings adjoining Memorial and the great hole in the ground which represents the beginning of the gym. Two of the buildings which were torn down were used as music studios and one as an art studio, so new buildings have been found to house these. The music building is now located at 214 N. New Street, which was formerly the house of Professor W.

R. Schmidt. It has been remodeled, papered and painted and is an excellent set-up for the music department.

The art department has established permanent quarters in the house next to Fraser Hall on E. Frederick Street.
The house has lent itself exceptionally well to this type of remodeling and it now stands ready to delight the heart of the art students.

One change which has greatly affected the alumnæ office is the moving of the New Century office from Administration building to the club house. The two offices adjoin now and it is a very satisfactory arrangement. It also gives one more room to the day students, which will be a welcome addition.
The only other improvements in the club house

Centennial
Bluestocking

The attention of the alumnae is again called to the Centennial Blue-stocking, now being compiled. It will be a pictorial history of Mary Baldwin and should be of interest to every alumna. It is impossible to give the definite price of the Bluestocking, as that will depend on the number of subscriptions, expense of printing, etc. It will probably cost between five and seven dollars. If each alumna wanting an annual will send a deposit of five dollars ($5.00) to Miss Fannie Strauss, 315 N.
New Street, Staunton,
Virginia, by October 25th, one will be reservises to be one of the most outstanding of the series at the college this year.

Alumnae chapters are asked to postpone their meetings until the week after October 4th-October 11th. Each chapter is urged to have a representative at Mary Baldwin who can carry back to them a full account of the day's events at the college and can discuss the Centennial plans. The board meeting on Wednesday night, and the open forum are vital to the success of this year, especially as connected with the chapters. It is only by having a personal representative that the chapters can reap full benefits from these meetings. The alumnae office will send reports and programs to all chapters but this will not take the place of their own representative.
